Design for Learning Participants,

This week's session will be on Characteristics of Adult Learners. In preparation please give some thought to the following questions:

- What is a recent class or learning opportunity that you chose to participate in that is outside your professional responsibilities? (Example - quilting class, ski lessons, church seminar, music lessons, etc).
- What was your reason for participating?
- What teaching strategies did the instructor use?
- What did the instructor do to encourage learning?
- What inhibited learning?

Several of you will be asked to share your experience.

Since we are a relative large group we will not spend a lot of time on introductions so please read introductions for the participants and facilitators that are posted on the DFL Website. In addition there is a link to the descriptions of topics you submitted. Hope you read everyone's topics.
