

Animal Sciences and Industry
K-State Research and Extension
232 Weber Hall
Manhattan, KS 66506-0201
785-532-6533
Fax: 785-532-7059

Position: Instructor, Livestock Judging Team Coach

Department of Animal Sciences and Industry
Kansas State University, Manhattan

Appointment: Full time, 12 month
100% Teaching

Position available: July 1, 2012 (negotiable)

Job description: The successful candidate will:

- Coach the junior and senior livestock judging teams, and the meat animal evaluation team.
- Teach courses in principles of livestock selection and form and function in livestock.
- Advise undergraduate students.
- Work in a diverse and multicultural environment.

Qualifications required:

- B.S. degree in Animal Science or related area, or equivalent, by the start date.
- Evidence of success in coaching a livestock judging team.
- Show evidence of being a successful team worker, able to foster diversity, able to meet, interact and communicate with students, colleagues, staff, and other pertinent clientele.
- Demonstrated effective oral and written communication skills.

Qualifications preferred

- M.S. degree in animal science.

To apply: Submit cover letter, detailed resume, minimum of three listed reference contacts, and copies of university transcripts to:

Dr. David Nichols, Search Committee Chair
Department of Animal Sciences and Industry
Kansas State University
133 Weber Hall
Manhattan, KS 66506-0201
Telephone: 785-532-1239
Email: dnichols@ksu.edu (Electronic applications accepted)

Application deadline: Review of applications begins April 1, 2012 and continues until an acceptable candidate is identified.

Kansas State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and actively seeks diversity among its employees.
Background check required.

Kansas State University
Agricultural Experiment
Station and Cooperative
Extension Service

"Knowledge for Life"